

VanEck

Australian RMBS

ETF

RMBS invests in a portfolio of Australian residential mortgage-backed securities. RMBS aims to provide investment returns, before fees and other costs, that closely track the performance of the Index.

RMBS

Benefits

Dedicated Australian residential mortgage-backed securities exposure

Access to a portfolio of Australian RMBS with AAA^A credit rating.

Access to floating rate exposure

RMBS pay coupons that vary with short-term interest rates. Interest rates are reset periodically resulting in reduced duration (interest rate) risk.

Yield premium, paid monthly

RMBS typically offer higher yield, commensurate with risk.

The table above shows past performance of the ETF from 22 April 2025 and of the Index from 30 June 2020. Results are calculated to the last business day of the month and assume immediate reinvestment of distributions. ETF results are net of management fees and costs, but before brokerage fees or bid/ask spreads incurred when investors buy/sell on the ASX. Returns for periods longer than one year are annualised. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of current or future performance which may be lower or higher.

Key risks

An investment in the ETF carries risks associated with: securitisation market, housing market, bond markets generally, interest rate movements, concentration, credit ratings, fund operations, liquidity and tracking an index. See the PDS and TMD for more details.
